

Notes for Healing of sense of being: A testimony
presented by Kim Jones

This testimony gives us the privilege of understanding more of what it means to have, or lack, a solid 'sense of being,' and to witness God's healing power at work in one unique and precious woman's life. These notes contain the full text and reference for the scripture and quotations shared. At the bottom of the notes are resources for further exploration of this topic.

"it is when the unbearable infantile feelings charge forward that we minister to the suffering inner child...Sufferers are at these times ... back in the experience of abandonment with its associated feelings" (Payne (1991), Restoring the Christian Soul Through Healing Prayer, 110).

"... we often find that the power to feel the pain is itself a vital part of the healing. The sufferer has repressed this heretofore and denied it precisely because it was so painful. But now he has to get it up and out. He needs to understand that, if he will stand in the cross and hurt, there is a place for it to go, an end to the pain. This seemingly endless pain is the way he gets in touch with and names the heretofore repressed grief, fear, anger, and shame, underlying his depression..." (Payne (1991), Restoring the Christian Soul Through Healing Prayer, 103).

I will never leave you nor forsake you. Hebrews 13:5

"Another lives in me. My spirit is one with His. That is my whole place. All else is raging around me and within me, but I can stand now, confident, and watch as God heals this part of me that is so wounded" (Payne (1991), Restoring the Christian Soul Through Healing Prayer, 71).
